Author Andrew McDermott to Speak at Central Library on Oct. 2 Writer will Discuss and Sign His Novel "The Tiger Chase"

SAN DIEGO – The City of San Diego Public Library will host an author talk with Andrew McDermott on Saturday, Oct. 2 at 2 p.m. in the third floor auditorium of the Central Library, 820 E St., located in downtown San Diego. This event is FREE to the public.

He will discuss his new novel, "The Tiger Chase." The Central Library is the first stop of McDermott's book tour and the event will be the official launch of the book.

McDermott describes himself as just a story teller and is a member of the new breed of writers who refuse to be shackled to a single genre. He proves this with his knowledge and presentation of a diverse range of topics.

His latest novel brings to light the plight of the South China tiger and tells a wonderfully suspenseful story besides. McDermott gives many detailed facts about the misuse of the animal and the quest of many to possess its power. Mixed with ancient Chinese legends and good old-fashioned American dog fighting is a wonderful tale. This work is for the lover of suspense with a slightly paranormal edge.

McDermott grew up in Nottingham, England. In 1989 he moved with his wife and two children to Queensland, Australia, where they now live in the Gold Coast hinterland.

Copies of Mr. McDermott's book will be available for purchase and author signing. For more information, call the Central Library at 619-236-5800 or visit the Library on the City's Web site at <http://www.sandiego.gov/public-library/>
